

GLORIOUS FOURTH AT JEFFERSON PARK

"Pursuit of Happiness" Most Diligently Engaged In, at Attractive Albemarle Resort.

MANY RICHMONDERS HERE

Register Shows Large Number of Names Familiar to Less Fortunate Stay-at-Homes.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
JEFFERSON PARK HOTEL, July 6.—Jefferson Park Hotel, the glorious Fourth and these early days of July at Jefferson Park Hotel have found many pleasures in life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness here. The resort is not only a favorite with Richmond and other Virginians, but draws year after year many guests from other States, who come to enjoy the freedom of outdoor life in this beautiful Albemarle resort. The delightful social atmosphere of the place, being situated as it is, near the historic University of Virginia, and in sight of Jefferson's Colonial Monticello, many pleasant riding and driving parties are formed, while the more indisposed take long walks over the beautiful surrounding country, answering the beckoning call of summer. The more athletic contingent here indulge in brisk games of tennis, while bridge still reigns as the queen of cards. Every night there is good music at the pavilion, and the young people enjoy to the fullest dancing on an excellent floor, while all the guests of the hotel and crowds from Charlottesville come out to see the moving pictures, and to participate in the many wonders of Wonderland, which offers many new and attractive features this year.

Some of the Guests.
Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lins and their little daughter, Florence, of Washington, D. C., arrived Monday, and were warmly welcomed by their Richmond friends.

this resort one of the most beautiful and picturesque in the Virginia mountains. The amusements are numerous and varied, and include tennis, bowling, billiards, pool, riding and driving; and one of the most attractive spots of interest are the bathing pools, which consist of two large inclosed pools, with cement floors. Both ladies' and gentlemen's pools have polite and efficient attendants in charge. Nothing more delightful can be imagined than a daily plunge in this health-giving, exhilarating water, so freely charged by nature with carbonic acid and other gases.

The ballroom, with its brilliant lights and inspiring music, rendered by an orchestra of six pieces, presents an animated scene, and is much enjoyed by the young people each evening. The opening entertainment of the season was a delightful tea party, given in honor of the birthday of Mrs. J. L. Holmes, of Jacksonville, Fla., and was a most enjoyable affair for the participants. Mrs. Holmes was assisted in receiving by Misses Sallie and Eliza Holmes, and was the recipient of the congratulations of those assembled. Handsome souvenirs of the happy occasion were given the guests. The ladies composing the party were Mesdames Hurt and Wilson, of Kansas City; Grant, of Cleveland, O.; William G. Pollard, Richmond; David Castleman and Charles Bailey, of Lexington, Ky.; E. H. Gargill, of Houston, Texas; Carter (the Hunter), Catlin, Eakle and Ashton, of Virginia; Misses Virginia Cronin, Baltimore, Md.; Elizabeth Sparrow, Columbus, O.; Fitzgerald, Houston, Texas; Alice, Houston, Texas; Mayo Castleman, Lexington, Ky.; and Miss Christian, of Virginia.

Among recent arrivals are Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth, Avon, N. Y.; Miss Wadsworth, Genesee, N. Y.; Gutta Beglum, New York; George Carey, Buffalo, N. Y.; Miss Elizabeth Sparrow, Columbus, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bailey, Lexington, Ky.; Mr. Bayard Bailey, New York City; Mrs. David Castleman, and Miss Mayo Castleman, Harrodsburg, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Howden and family, of Lakeland, Fla.; Miss Amy Guerdar, Charleston, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hunter, Marlinton, W. Va.; Mrs. William George Pollard and son, Richmond, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Grant, Mr. Arthur Grant, Cleveland, O.; Mr. D. Rice and family and the Misses Fitzgerald, Houston, Texas; Mrs. J. L. Holmes and family, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. R. E. Wilson, Mrs. Julia Hurt, Kansas City, Kan.; Mrs. A. W. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Carr, O. Hill, Houston, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Colonna and son, Norfolk, Va.; Mr. Thomas H. Kensett and family, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. M. P. Stanford, Miss Blayze Bayly, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sperdine, Miss Sperdine, New Orleans, La.; Mr. F. G. Gammon, Fredericksburg, Va.; T. M. Carrington, Richmond, Va.; Mr. J. Hawthorne Lewis, wife and child, San Antonio, Texas; Mr. W. Lyle McLaugh, Salem, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hatch, N. C.; Mr. Hutchinson, Fort Verde, W. Va.; and the Misses McKim, Baltimore, Md., and many others.

FOX-HUNTING OVER MOUNTAIN FORESTS

This Manly Sport Proves Most Popular Pastime at Natural Bridge During Week.

SEASON OPENS BRIGHTLY

Warm Weather Turns Thoughts of Many to Cool Mountain Resorts.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NATURAL BRIDGE, VA., July 6.—The season at this beautiful resort opens up brightly.

The hotel is truly first class and up to date, remodeled, refurnished, with a large new addition, all modern improvements, steam heat, electric lights and private baths, and every room under the management of the Natural Bridge is so prettily and daintily furnished that the most fastidious is pleased.

Natural Bridge Station is on direct line of travel to Jamestown, and a delightful drive from that point, over a beautiful, smooth, well-kept macadamized road, brings you to Natural Bridge Hotel, three miles distant. The magnificent scenery makes the drive from the station one of pleasure and restfulness, and the hotel affords just the resting place one desires, before or after a visit to the exposition, for when the body is worn out the spirit cries for a haven of rest, and nowhere can that better be found than at Natural Bridge, for it affords every facility for rest and recreation, and the genial host and hostess give every attention to the comfort and pleasure of their guests.

The present week of warm weather has turned the thoughts of the city people to the mountains, and from the number of letters received, Natural Bridge will have its quota of guests, for many are already booked. Among the many amusements of the past week, fox-hunting seems to have taken the lead. The dogs are from the kennels here and well trained. Mr. C. H. Paxton, manager, with a party of young ladies and gentlemen, enjoyed a moonlight hunt, and if they had not been so securely that they could not be found, the gallop over the mountain road was so thoroughly enjoyed that no disappointment was expressed.

The following delightful party, now being entertained at a house party at Virginia Manor, the country home of Mr. George W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, was entertained by Miss Paxton at Natural Bridge Wednesday evening: Misses Helen Stevens, Helen Tanner, Louise Selden, Nina Goodwin, Mary Mott, Miss Boylston and Mrs. Morris; Messrs. Cecil and George Stevens, Beckner, Riley, Morris, Poague and the evening was spent in dancing, and all seemed to have a good time.

Many delightful parties have visited the bridge en route to the exposition. Some seem to appreciate the beauties of the bridge more than the following: Mr. and Mrs. George Oscar Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Page, of Newnam, Ill. The register shows the following names: Mrs. E. Miller and family, Lynchburg, Va.; Mr. A. C. Ellis and daughter, Miss Ellis, Salt Lake City, Utah; Mrs. Henry A. Wise and family, New York City; Mr. W. D. Rightmore, Akron, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Hayes, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Taylor and son, Farmington, Mo.; Mr. W. H. Garman, Tarrytown, N. Y.; Mrs. M. W. Cole, Norfolk, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Groat, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Groat and sons, Lancaster, Pa.; Miss Susan M. Sturges, Mansfield, Ohio; Mrs. Gunther and daughters, Lexington, Va.

BIG GERMAN ON NIGHT OF FOURTH

This Was The Mecklenburg's Chief Celebration of the Nation's Natal Day.

CHASE CITY, VA., July 6.—The absence of the "pomp and pageantry," the plumes and banners, "gay" with which the glorious Fourth has often been celebrated here, in no way lessened the enjoyment of the day, which was observed in a "free and independent spirit" worthy of the day. There were no civic functions except a large picnic given at the Davies farm by the Mecklenburg Guards, and thoroughly enjoyed by their invited guests, including the leading people of the town.

"The day we celebrate" was indicated here by the appropriate menu cards at dinner, the patriotic and national airs rendered by the orchestra.

The german in the evening was considered one of the prettiest ever danced at The Mecklenburg, in reason of the very graceful and artistic figure introduced and the daintiness of the costumes worn.

The german was led by Dr. T. W. Edmunds, assistant resident physician, and Miss Bertha Adams, of Bon Air, Va. Others dancing were Miss Martin, Mobile, Ala.; Miss Waddill, Greensboro, N. C.; Miss Abernethy, Washington, D. C.; Miss Burwell, Chase City, Va.; Miss Norvill, Chase City, Va.; Miss Wall, Rockingham, N. C.; Mrs. I. N. Jones, Richmond, Va.; Miss Concanon, Baltimore; Miss Anderson, Hanover, Va.; Mrs. E. M. Fellows, Raleigh, N. C.; Mrs. E. M. Donnelly, Chicago; Mr. W. B. Agnew, Chase City, Va.; Mr. Alfred Huston, Chase City, Va.; Mr. E. H. Fellows, Raleigh, N. C.; Mr. E. G. Williams, Greensboro; Mr. J. G. Sizem, Richmond, Va.; Mr. H. R. Cooley, Chase City; Mr. W. T. Thomas, Westminister, Va.; Mr. Oscar Yokely, Chase City; Mr. George Gilman, Chase City; The chaplains, handsomely attired, were Mrs. R. S. Tucker, Raleigh, N. C.; Mrs. J. C. Walton, The Mecklenburg; Mrs. Abernethy-Miller, Washington, D. C.

The first bowling party of the season was given on Thursday morning by the town men to the young ladies of the hotel, and was thoroughly enjoyed by those who were enthusiastically into the exciting contest. The guests of the occasion were Miss Sikes, Portsmouth, Va.; Miss Martin, D. C.; Miss Waddill, Greensboro; Miss Bagley, North Carolina; Miss Waddill, Jones, Warrenton, N. C.; Miss Wall, North Carolina; Miss Burwell, Miss Norvill, Chase City; Miss Katherine Anderson, Hanover, Va.; Mrs. I. N. Jones, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. I. N. Whitaker, Raleigh, N. C.

The very recent arrivals are L. K. Perry, Larry, T. A. Harrison, of Richmond; Mr. John C. Easley, Richmond; Miss M. C. Martin, Mrs. M. B. Holt, Montgomery, Ala. Mrs. James C. Parkinson, of Richmond, and mother, Mrs. A. C. Glenn, South Boston, spent several days here last week, and made a most pleasing impression.

MANY ATTRACTIONS AT WARM SPRINGS

Golf, Tennis, Swimming and Horseback Riding All Have Numerous Devotees.

FOR MOUNTAIN RAMBLES
Splendid Opportunities Are Offered for Tramps Through Hidden Paths.

WARM SULPHUR SPRINGS, VA., July 6.—This resort, which has had for generations one of the most cultured and select clientele of all the noted Virginia watering places, seems even more beautiful this summer. It is surrounded by spreading trees, carpeted with blue grass and flanked in all directions by the towering Appalachians. Situated on a tableland between tall peaks, over which are wafted the coolest and purest breezes, it is especially adapted to outdoor sports. The golf links stretch over a nine-hole course, and every morning and afternoon find the enthusiasts, both adept and amateur. Tennis also has its devotees, and the excellent courts are a continual source of pleasure. The prevailing coolness of this climate makes it possible to enjoy games at any hour of the day. Riding is unusually popular this season. With splendid stables, picturesque roads, good horsemen and women, large riding and driving parties are a daily feature of the springs. Among the women famous for cross-country riding are the Misses Blane and Miss Bell, of Louisville, Ky., and Miss Buchanan, daughter of General J. A. Buchanan, of Washington, D. C., who is summing with his family here.

The large circular swimming pools combine medicinal virtues with the diversion of swimming. Many guests are proficient swimmers, and others are acquiring the art. Two attendants are always present. The sulphur and other mineral springs are conveniently near.

The mountains furnish opportunities for rambles and climbs, and to the naturalist, who is interested in flora and fauna, they furnish unusual specimens for study. From the hotel veranda, a variety of birds may be seen, and the call of "Bob White" tantalizes the sportsman's ear.

The spacious interior of the hotel equals in attractiveness the charm of the exterior. It is kept lavishly decorated in flowers and ferns, and is most comfortably and daintily furnished, lending itself not only to individual ease, but to delightful private parties. Mrs. Eubank, who is the hostess of Warm Sulphur Springs, plans many unique entertainments during the season.

Monday night Mr. William Crane, of New York, entertained at a beautiful dance and supper in the large and airy ballroom. The orchestra is proving a most enjoyable and informal dancing is enjoyed every evening.

Nine States are at present represented among the guests. The following names are some of the prominent guests: Dr. Sheppard, of Richmond, who is resident summer physician; Mrs. M. F. Blake, Boston, Mass.; J. H. Thompson, Paris, Ky.; Mrs. J. H. Thompson, Paris, Ky.; J. H. Thompson, Jr., Paris, Ky.; Mr. J. W. Osburn, Atlantic City, N. J.; O. W. Huskai, Petersburg, W. Va.; Mrs. A. B. Legare, Washington, D. C.; Miss A. M. Combs, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. George T. M. Gibson, Miss Gibson and maid, Miss Louise M. Gibson, Miss Mary Wadd, Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. H. W. Blane, Miss Maud Blane, Miss Adele Blane, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. L. C. Davis, Miss Davis, Philadelphia, Pa.; W. S. Powers, Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. John D. Otter, Louisville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. W. Otter, Louisville, Ky.; Miss Emma Semple, Louisville, Ky.; Miss Bernice Semple, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Carothers, Baltimore; Mrs. Henley Smith and maid, Washington, D. C.; Miss C. Young, Washington, D. C.; William P. Wood, wife and family, Richmond; Mrs. Yowell Rice and family, Louisville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs.

INSIST!!!

When you step up to a fountain or into a place where bottled drinks are sold tell the man you want Coca-Cola. Close your ears to the "just as good" argument because there is nothing just as good as Coca-Cola. INSIST. You have asked for Coca-Cola because you are convinced that is what you want—don't let a smooth-tongued salesman rule your judgement. If the man insists go to a place where they give their customers what they ask for. Imitations are made to deceive you, not to please you.

THE REASON—Coca-Cola not only quenches thirst and pleases the palate but it relieves fatigue, and is the only beverage that has vim and go to it!

FESTIVE DAYS AT THE BLUE RIDGE

Many Pretty Girls Have Arrived, and the "Coming Man" Is Eagerly Looked For.

BLUE RIDGE SPRINGS, VA., July 6.—In this retreat the "Glorious Fourth" was quietly ushered in, with games of cards and no "crazy" with one hundred and thirty-one candies. The days here are beginning to take on a festive air, and the rolling of balls at the bowling alley, the dance in the ballroom in the evening, the younger brother of Colonel Walter H. Taylor, who was a staff officer of General Robert E. Lee during the years of General Lee's command of the Confederate armies.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dooley enjoyed the Fourth at this resort. Mr. Dooley and son, Maurice Gessner, father and son, members of the Annapolis Band, arrived on the Fourth, with Mr. Krantz, a cornetist from the Virginia Military Institute, and will, together, furnish excellent music for the season. A corps of pretty girls are already in possession of the grounds, daintily arrayed in the freshest of summer gowns, and awaiting the "coming man," the needed escort for mountain strolls and the evening hops, for the duty of a girl's "spot" is a girl's dancing to waltz with each other. The dowagers, too, are looking forward with hope for a gay season, which is clearly indicated by letters and telegrams to the management for rooms and board. The arrivals of the week are Miss Tyler, Lynchburg; A. W. Talley, Lynchburg; G. W. Lancaster, Atlanta; C. V. Carroll, New York; Paul C. Klenast, New York; L. Page Taylor, Norfolk; T. W. Johns, Lynchburg; W. A. Whaley, Roanoke; M. B. Pace, Virginia; J. R. Yarmann, Roanoke; J. M. Obenchain, Bedford City; W. M. Kelly, Virginia; W. L. Cowperthwait, Roanoke; R. B. Bailey, Roanoke; W. A. Nance, Bedford City; W. H. Abbott, Jr., Bedford City; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dooley, Roanoke; W. H. Doyle, W. D. Ward, Roanoke; Mrs. Margaret Day, Miss Day, Roanoke; Franklin Moore, Lynchburg.
